FUNDRAISING UPDATE

Amazing update!

Just a few weeks ago I sent you a letter about our new land project. We asked you to consider giving a one-time donation of $8,000 to buy two different pieces of land—the one with legal issues that we had been trying to purchase for the last three years, and a new property we just found that is bigger and more useful for our current needs.

Since sending that letter just a few weeks ago, I have been approached by three different churches. One of them is giving $75,000, and two more churches are giving $20,000 each! With only three churches so far, God has already provided $115,000!

I am truly thankful for you. I know that what we are asking is a considerable effort on your part. Many churches are struggling nowadays, and I am sure there are many mission projects worthy of your support. But we are still asking you to pray for us and for this great need. In my own strength, there is no possible way I can pay off this loan, but together, we can pray for God to provide for this need and glorify His name. Would you please let me know if you are considering partnering with us in this project? The $8,000 donation does not have to be given all at once. It can be given over one, two, or even three years. But it would help us tremendously to know that you are going to take part in this amazing work of God.

Fundraising

I take it very seriously every time we ask for financial help. We have been in Mexico for ten years, and I have only reached out a small number of times. However, this is by far our most significant request. Your help is needed urgently. The loan that was given needs to be paid off, and I cannot do alone. This is what I am humbly asking. Would you consider helping us with a one-time donation of $8,000 so I can pay off this loan? It does not have to be given immediately. As I said, I would like to pay it off within the next few years. Would your church consider helping us? I know that some may not be able to give that amount, whereas others may be able to give even more. I am asking you to help us in any way you can. My family and I will be deeply grateful.

As I was talking to my pastor, the amazing generosity of our churches reminded me of what Paul said about the Macedonian churches. “For to their power, I bear record, yea, and beyond their power they were willing of themselves; praying us with much intreaty that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the saints,” 2 Corinthians 8:3–4.

Thank you, dear partners, for your participation with us as we proclaim the Gospel in Mexico City.

1. New Church Grounds

This new land already has buildings that we can use right away! It needs remodeling and maintenance, but we are very grateful that this will be a relatively easy transition. Please pray for the necessary funds.
