Dear friends and family,

June 2026

My wife and I sat on April's couch that Thursday night. She had a diverse religious background. Nevertheless, you could tell she was searching. Religion had not satisfied. She was asking us the difference between what we believed and what other religions believed. In reply, we preached Jesus: the death, the burial, and the resurrection of Christ. For over two hours, with her uneaten rice getting cold, April sat listening intently, and asking probing questions. In the end, she bowed her head and prayed, asking Jesus to be her Saviour.

Her daughter was a few feet away, studying and doing her homework, but listening closely to our conversation. Also, April's husband lives and works on the nearby island of Provo, but he comes over on the weekends and they are able to spend some time together. Please pray for opportunities to witness to the family and that they would all believe on the name of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Through April's invitation, more Filipino's are hearing about our church. I walked into the grocery store the other day intending to be quick, but left 45 minutes later because two Filipino workers realized I was the pastor that April told them about, and, between serving customers, they kept asking me questions about salvation and the Bible. "Be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear". What a privilege and joy to be able to do that. Please pray for fruit.

We just wanted to say a special "thank you" to those who have helped us with our solar project. All the needed funds have come in to pay for the shipping and clearing. We have it set up now, and it is such a blessing...the continuous power outages (that we keep hearing about) are affecting us less and less.

It was a blessing to see one of our college students (Didlein) recently in church. His family has moved away, but he came over on a holiday weekend to say, "hi". After the service, he gave me an update on himself, and on the others who have graduated, but used to attend our church. It was encouraging to see him again, and hear of his continued desire to serve the Lord. He also expressed a level of disappointment in certain of the other college students as he relayed their spiritual lives how they have since walked away from Christ. You pour your life into these...though many fall aside, it is so encouraging to hear even of one who continues to walk in the faith with Christ and decides to grow.

Thank you for your faithful prayers and support.

In Christ,

Paul, Amy, Abby, Emily, Sadie, Ben, and Caleb Valles
